Professional Disclosure Statement

I want to thank you for taking the time to review my professional disclosure statement. This statement will help to familiarize you with my role as a counselor, your role as the client, and the counseling process. I graduated from Liberty University in December of 2021 with a master's in arts in Clinical Mental Health Counseling.

Experience and Clientele Served:

I have professionally utilized counseling experience and techniques in individual and group in both my practicum and internship through Liberty University. I spent my practicum and internship at a single site focusing on private practice and was afforded the privilege of working with a variety of groups, individuals, and families. My unlicensed work prior to graduation includes experience in case management and family centered treatment. I have worked with families, women, children, and dual-diagnosed individuals. Many of my clients were experiencing homelessness, child protective services interventions, polysubstance use, and mental illness. In my internship I have also worked with clients experiencing grief, Attention Deficit Disorder, Autism, and Post-Traumatic Stress Disorder.

Theoretical Orientation:

My work with dual-diagnosed individuals, the homeless, and individuals in crisis has greatly shaped my theoretical orientation. I utilize trauma-informed care in combination with Person-Centered Therapy, Cognitive-Behavioral Therapy (CBT), Motivational Interviewing (MI), Solution-Focused Therapy (SFT), and Gestalt Therapy to maximize your therapeutic experience. First, I find completing a thorough intake assessment is best practice. An intake assessment is typically 120 minutes in length and helps me to evaluate counseling orientation best suits your unique history and your counseling goals. It is my belief that you have the tools you need already inside of you to transform into best version of yourself. I have also discovered that is helpful to find balance. This is crucial for any type of personal growth from anxiety to recovery from substance use. To achieve equilibrium, I often offer somatic awareness activities for grounding at the beginning and ending of each session. I believe in a collaborative approach when it comes to therapy. Treatment can include diagnostic assessments to determine mental health diagnoses.

Some insurance policies require a primary diagnosis to bill for counseling services. If you have any concerns, we can discuss that in session and reach a conclusion together. It is imperative for me to inform you in advance that any diagnosis will become part of your permanent record and is kept confidential, apart from being used by insurance companies to determine what additional services or treatment modalities may be covered under your plan.

Counseling Process:

Building a relationship with you in the beginning of the counseling process is my top priority. Providing you with a safe place to process your emotions is paramount, as your counselor. Being your best self is an important counseling goal but healing old hurts and building effective coping skills are also important. Whatever you are experiencing, please know that you will not be judged. Your responsibilities in the counseling relationship include being open, honest, vulnerable, and willing to challenge yourself to achieve your goals.

Litigation Limitation:

Given that certain types of litigation (such as child custody suits) may lead to the court-ordered release of information without your consent, it is expressly agreed that should there be legal proceedings (such as, but not limited to, divorce and custody disputes, injuries, lawsuits, etc) neither you nor any attorney, or anyone else acting on your behalf, will ask me to testify in a deposition or in court or any other proceeding, nor will disclosure of the medical record and/or progress notes be requested. If you are seeking custody evaluations, or legal or court-related assistance, we are happy to refer you to someone who specializes in that area.

Services and Fees:

Individual and family sessions are generally 50 minutes in length. Group sessions are generally 90 minutes in length. All sessions are by appointment only. The initial evaluation appointment fee is $130. Your fee for 50-minute follow-up sessions is $100.00. The fee for sessions that run over 50 minutes is $120. Payment must be made at the conclusion of each session. If you have an insurance plan that provides coverage for this service, we will be happy to file a claim for you. You are responsible for the payment of your deductible and co-pays.

Cash and personal checks are acceptable methods of payment. If for any reason you must cancel an appointment, please call at least 24 hours prior to the appointment. Otherwise, you will be charged for the time that was reserved for you.

Besides weekly appointments, I charge my standard hourly fee for other professional services you may request, including report writing, phone conversations, consultations with other professionals per your request, or preparation of treatment summaries. As stated earlier, your signature on this disclosure ensures that I will not be called to testify in legal-related matters. If, despite this consent, I am required to participate in legal proceedings, you will be expected to pay for all of my professional time and transportation costs. Because of the difficulty of legal involvement, I charge $200 per hour for my professional time spent in consultation with attorneys, report writing, preparation, and attendance at legal proceedings.

Telehealth:

If recommended, as a result of geographic or physical challenges, and you have already had an initial face-to-face intake, and you are located in NC, telehealth services may be provided through a HIPAA compliant, encrypted portal. Telehealth services utilize two-way, real-time interactive audio and video capabilities in providing services to clients. All confidentiality guidelines, laws, and treatment expectations for face-to-face treatment, as described elsewhere in the professional disclosure statement, also apply in the venue of telehealth. Fees will also be the same as that for face-to-face services. Clients who choose to utilize this venue will be provided instructions for logging on to the portal. Signing this consent signifies your understanding of the inherent risks with telehealth services, including, but not limited to, the transmission of private health information being disrupted, distorted, or compromised. Recording or dissemination of any personally identifiable images or information from the telehealth interaction is prohibited.

Confidentiality:

Confidentiality is a concept that I do not take lightly. You have the right to keep your information secure. I will be keeping documentation of our sessions together in the form of confidential notes. Any information pertaining to your treatment will be kept in confidence with a few exceptions. The first exception is if you sign a written release of information for me to disclose approved information to a specific entity (outside of disclosing a diagnosis to insurance companies). The second reason to break confidentiality is if you pose an imminent danger to yourself or others. This caveat includes suspected child or elder abuse or neglect. Another reason confidentiality could be broken is if a court order from a judge is presented to me. I will not break confidentiality when presented with a subpoena from a lawyer. If you are a patient with a substance use disorder, your information has a higher standard of confidentiality (42 CFR Part 2).

Supervision:

I am supervised by Katherine Therrell, LCMHCS while working towards my supervision hours to become a fully licensed Clinical Mental Health Counselor. I am supervised for at least one hour individually per 40 hours worked. I will present case studies to get support on my counseling skills to ensure best practices are used with my clients. My supervisor's contact information is provided below if you have questions or concerns about our therapeutic relationship and the role of supervision.

Katherine Therrell, LCMHCS

3653 Sweeten Creek Rd, Arden, NC 28704 Phone: (828)-651-0111 Email: ktherrell@ktherrell-counselor.com

Complaints and Grievances:

If you have a complaint or grievance, I invite you to discuss it with me first. If not adequately resolved, you may contact my supervisor. I have the utmost respect for your experience and my desire is to be the most helpful to you as possible. I abide by the ACA Code of Ethics, which can be found at the following website: https://www.counseling.org/docs/default-source/ethics/2014-code-of-ethics.pdf?sfvrsn=2d58522c_4

If you feel as though we cannot resolve the issue together individually or with the support of my supervisor, your next step may be to file a complaint with the North Carolina Board of Licensed Clinical Mental Health Counselors.

Health Insurance Portability Accountability Act (HIPAA)

Client Rights & Therapist Duties

This document contains important information about federal law, the Health Insurance Portability and Accountability Act (HIPAA), that provides privacy protections and patient rights with regard to the use and disclosure of your Protected Health Information (PHI) used for the purpose of treatment, payment, and health care operations. HIPAA requires that I provide you with a Notice of Privacy Practices (the Notice) for use and disclosure of PHI for treatment, payment and health care operations. The Notice, which is attached to this Agreement, explains HIPAA and its application to your PHI in greater detail. The law requires that I obtain your signature acknowledging that I have provided you with this. If you have any questions, it is your right and obligation to ask so we can have a further discussion prior to signing this document. When you sign this document, it will also represent an agreement between us. You may revoke this Agreement in writing at any time. That revocation will be binding unless I have taken action in reliance on it.

LIMITS ON CONFIDENTIALITY

The law protects the privacy of all communication between a patient and a therapist. In most situations, I can only release information about your treatment to others if you sign a written authorization form that meets certain legal requirements imposed by HIPAA. There are some situations where I am permitted or required to disclose information without either your consent or authorization. If such a situation arises, I will limit my disclosure to what is necessary. Reasons I may have to release your information without authorization:

1. If you are involved in a court proceeding and a request is made for information concerning your diagnosis and treatment, such information is protected by the psychologist-patient privilege law. I cannot provide any information without your (or your legal representative's) written authorization, or a court order, or if I receive a subpoena of which you have been properly notified and you have failed to inform me that you oppose the subpoena. If you are involved in or contemplating litigation, you should consult with an attorney to determine whether a court would be likely to order me to disclose information.
2. If a government agency is requesting the information for health oversight activities, within its appropriate legal authority, I may be required to provide it for them. We will share information about you if state or federal laws require it, including with the Department of Health and Human Services if it wants to see that we're complying with federal privacy law. Additionally, we are allowed or required to share your information in other ways – usually in ways that contribute to the public good, such as public health and research. We have to meet many conditions in the law before we can share your information for these purposes. For more information see: www.hhs.gov/ocr/privacy/hipaa/understanding/consumers/index.html.

3. If a patient files a complaint or lawsuit against me, I may disclose relevant information regarding that patient in order to defend myself.
4. If a patient files a worker's compensation claim, and I am providing necessary treatment related to that claim. I must, upon appropriate request, submit treatment reports to the appropriate parties, including the patient's employer, the insurance carrier or an authorized qualified rehabilitation provider.
5. I may disclose the minimum necessary health information to my business associates that perform functions on our behalf or provide us with services if the information is necessary for such functions or services. My business associates sign agreements to protect the privacy of your information and are not allowed to use or disclose any information other than as specified in our contract.

There are some situations in which I am legally obligated to take actions, which I believe are necessary to attempt to protect others from harm, and I may have to reveal some information about a patient's treatment:

1. If I know, or have reason to suspect, that a child under 18 has been abused, abandoned, or neglected by a parent, legal custodian, caregiver, or any other person responsible for the child's welfare, the law requires that I file a report with the North Carolina Abuse Hotline. Once such a report is filed, I may be required to provide additional information.
2. If I know or have reasonable cause to suspect that a vulnerable adult has been abused, neglected, or exploited, the law requires that I file a report with the North Carolina Abuse Hotline. Once such a report is filed, I may be required to provide additional information.
3. If I believe that there is a clear and immediate probability of physical harm to the patient, to other individuals, or to society, I may be required to disclose information to take protective action, including communicating the information to the potential victim, and/or appropriate family member, and/or the police or to seek hospitalization of the patient.
